Like other variable annuities (VAs), Monument Advisor Select lets you accumulate money on a tax-deferred basis. But as you'll see below, it also provides a number of other features that may work to your advantage. We think it's a better way to prepare for retirement.

Understanding variable annuities — the condensed version.

Before we discuss Monument Advisor Select's investment options, let's go over some important points about variable annuities.

Variable annuities are long-term, tax-deferred investments you buy from an insurance company to help you save for retirement. They are called "variable" because their value fluctuates based on the performance of the underlying investment options you and your financial professional pick.

They allow you to create a stream of income, available for a specified amount of time or for life, accessed either through systematic withdrawal, annuitization (at no extra cost) or the purchase of an optional rider. When discussing variable annuities, it's important to note that they have limitations and aren't right for all investors. If you decide to take your money out early:

- If you're not yet 59½, you may have to pay an additional 10% early withdrawal federal tax penalty on top of ordinary income taxes
- If a death benefit is available, the amount of your death benefit and the contract value will be reduced

Any guarantees are based on the policy terms and conditions and are subject to the claims-paying ability of Nationwide Life Insurance Company. These guarantees don't apply to the performance of the underlying investment options, which are subject to investment risk, including possible loss of the money you've invested. The investment options in a variable annuity are underlying subaccounts and cannot be purchased directly by the public. They are only available through variable annuity policies issued by life insurance companies.
